

PokerStrategy.com
The Professional Poker School

PokerStrategy.com Elephant

PokerStars Tournament Summaries

Request Tournament Summaries Via Email

PokerStars¹ does not always write the final tournament data into the local hand history files. Those tournaments will appear inside the PokerStrategy.com Elephant with a placement of 0 and missing winning information. The missing data can be imported into the PokerStrategy.com Elephant by requesting the tournament summaries via email from within your PokerStars client followed by a clipboard import of the tournament summaries as soon as you have received them.

The clipboard import is explained in the section Import Hand Histories - Clipboard Import on page 3. Your tournament placements and winnings are available as soon as you have imported these summary files.

PokerStars

In order to enable the PokerStrategy.com Elephant to import the email tournament summaries, you need to change the email language of your PokerStars client to English. Please select the English language in your PokerStars client menu Language → Email in (See figure 1).

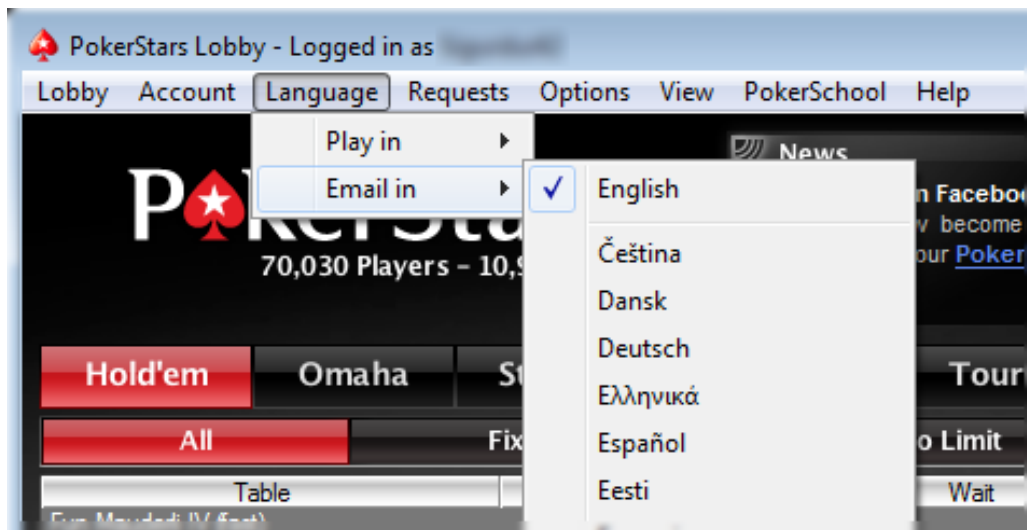

Figure 1: Change PokerStars Email Language

You can now request the PokerStars tournament summaries like this: Go to the menu and select the item Requests → Tournament History... as shown in figure 2.

¹PokerStars - see <http://www.pokerstars.com>

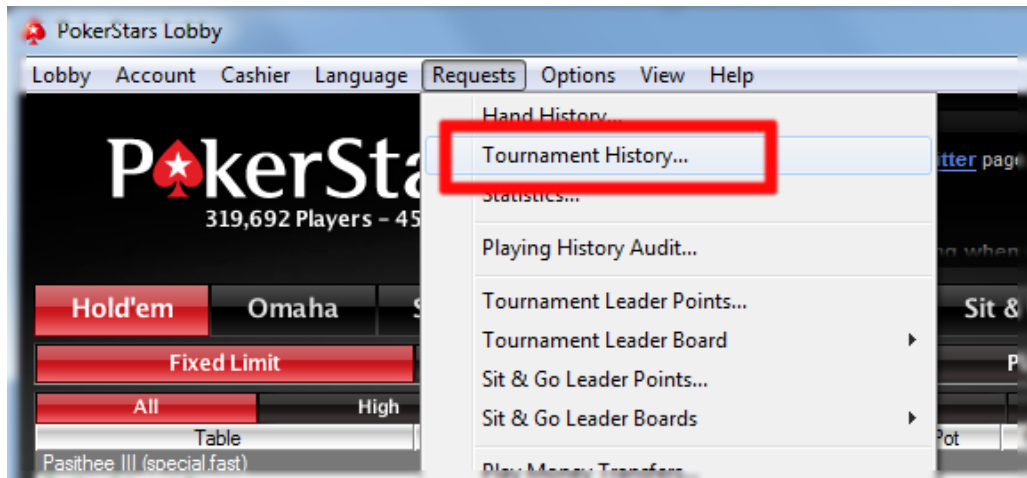

Figure 2: Request PokerStars Tournament Summary - Part One

Enter the number of tournaments to request. You don't need to enter the exact number as it is no problem to import tournament summaries multiple times (See figure 3).

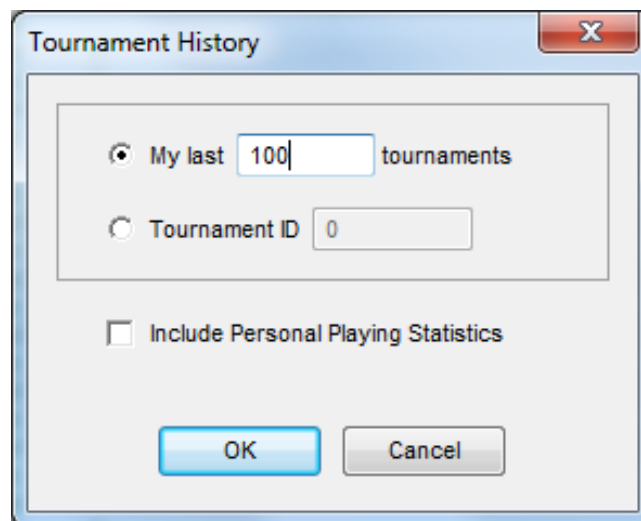

Figure 3: Request PokerStars Tournament Summary - Part Two

You may check the Include Personal Playing Statistics option - it will not make any difference for the summary parsing process. You will receive your tournament summaries after click the OK button.

Import Hand Histories - Clipboard Import

You can import your tourney summaries from the Windows® clipboard directly into the PokerStrategy.com Elephant:

1. Select and copy the whole tournament summary to import in your favorite editor or email client.
2. Copy the selected tournament summary (e. g. by pressing [CTRL]+[C]).

3. Open your PokerStrategy.com Elephant (if it is not already running) and switch to the Import page.
4. Click on the Import Clipboard button. A new entry in the Import Hand Files list will appear.
5. Click on the Start Import button. The tournament summary will now be imported.

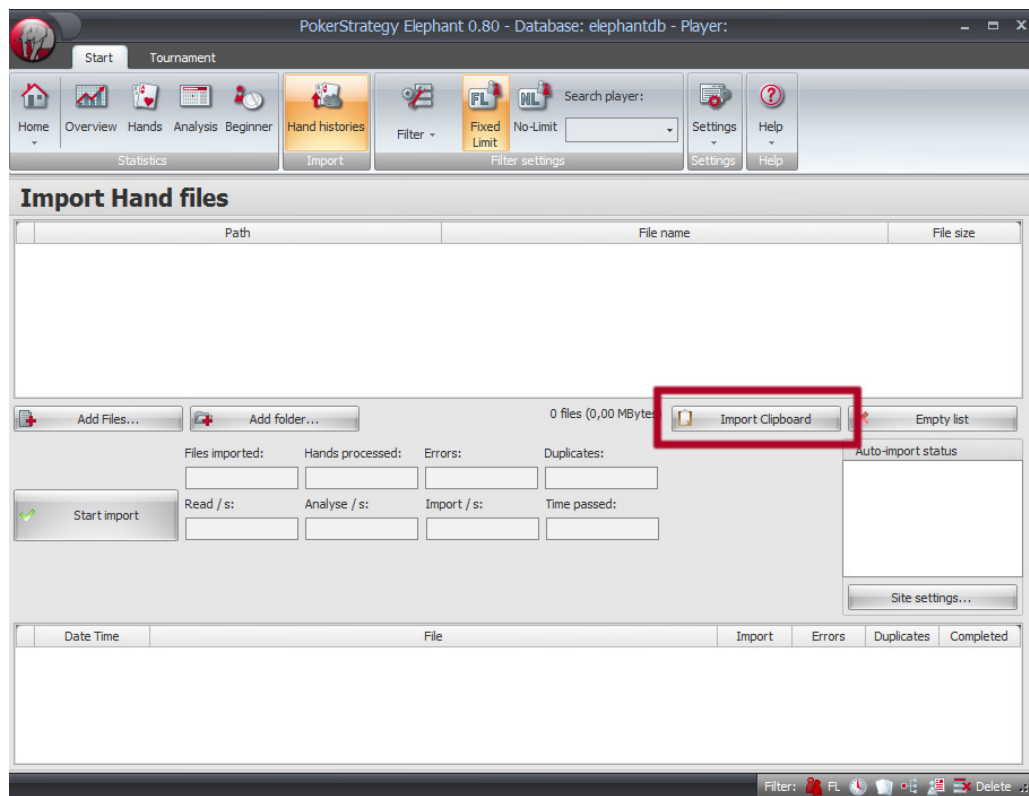

Figure 4: Import Tournament Summaries from the Clipboard

PokerStrategy.com
The Professional Poker School